

Edo Hoekstra

Director

VP and Digital Manager, Exploration
& Field Development Software Schlumberger

Edo Hoekstra serves as VP & Digital Manager, Exploration & Field Development Software at Schlumberger. He is located in Stavanger, Norway.

Mr. Hoekstra has worked for Schlumberger in a number of positions for the last 21 years of which over 10 years in product development. Prior to his current position he was DELFI E&P Environment Manager, and before that manager of Petrel, the E&P software platform for subsurface characterization, model building, and simulation.

Mr. Hoekstra holds an MSc degree in Seismic and Acoustic Imaging, Applied Physics from the Delft University of Technology.